LATEST NEWS: First National Title Insurance Company Welcomes Reanna Hardock as Florida Underwriting Counsel

PLANO, TEXAS — First National Title Insurance Company (FNTI) is pleased to announce that Reanna Hardock has joined the company as Florida Underwriting Counsel, further strengthening FNTI's underwriting presence and support for title agents throughout Florida.

Reanna brings a background in civil and business litigation, legal analysis, and risk assessment to her new role. As a Florida-licensed attorney, she has experience evaluating complex legal matters, assessing potential liabilities and risk exposure, and developing practical, solutions-oriented strategies. Her legal background provides a strong foundation in critical analysis, strategic problem-solving, and navigating complex issues.

In her role with FNTI, Reanna will work closely with Florida title agents, providing thoughtful, responsive, and practical underwriting guidance to help navigate transactions and address the challenges that arise in today's title industry.

"I'm excited to join First National Title Insurance and begin this next chapter of my legal career. I look forward to building strong relationships with our agents, expanding my expertise in title insurance, and contributing to a team dedicated to providing thoughtful, practical underwriting support," said Reanna Hardock, Florida Underwriting Counsel.

Reanna's addition reflects FNTI's continued commitment to investing in experienced legal professionals and strengthening the resources available to its agents. As FNTI continues to grow its presence in Florida, the company remains focused on delivering accessible underwriting expertise, personalized service, and meaningful relationships that help agents succeed.
